SECTION-I

1. OVERVIEW OF THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL 1718 SANCTIONS REGIME

1.1. Role of the United Nations Security Council (UNSC)

Under the Charter of the United Nations (UN), the Security Council has the primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security. It has 15 Members, and each Member has one vote. The Security Council takes the lead in determining the existence of a threat to the peace or act of aggression. Chapter-VII of the UN Charter sets out the UNSC powers to maintain international peace. It allows the Council to “determine the existence of any threat to the peace, breach of the peace, or act of aggression” and to take military and non-military action to “restore international peace and security” (Article 41-42 UN Charter). It is important to note that resolutions adopted by the UNSC under Chapter-VII are binding on all UN Member States.

1.2. UNSC 1718 Sanctions Regime

The 1718 sanctions regime was established by the UNSC pursuant to its resolution 1718 (2006). Under the resolution 1718 \(2006\), persons or entities engaging in or providing support for Democratic Peoples’ Republic of Korea’s (DPRK) prohibited programmes or by persons or entities acting on their behalf or at their direction could be designated. This was expanded under resolution 2087 \(2013\) including the criteria of individuals and entities which have assisted the evasion of sanctions or in violating the provisions of resolutions 1718 and 1874.

In 2009 and 2012, the Committee designated a total of 5 individuals and 11 entities (S/2009/222, S/2009/364 and S/2012/287). Under resolution 2087 (2013), an additional 4 individuals and 6 entities were designated and again, under resolution 2094 (2013); 3 new individuals and 2 new entities were added. On 28 July 2014, the Committee designated an additional entity. Under resolution 2270 (2016), 16 new individuals and 12 entities were designated, and by the adoption of resolution 2321 (2016), 10 new individuals and 11 entities were further designated. Under resolution 2356 (2017), an additional 14 individuals and 4 entities were designated, followed by 9 individuals and 4 entities under 2371 (2017) and 1 individual and 3 entities under resolution 2375 (2017). Most recently, on 30 March 2018, additional 1 individual and 21 entities were designated under resolution 2397 (2017). Currently, there are a total of 80 individuals and 75 entities on the 1718 Sanctions List.

1.3. Sanctions Measures under 1718 Sanctions Regime

As per UNSC 1718 Sanctions Regime, all States are required to implement the following measures relating to the DPRK:

1.3.1. Arms and Related Material Embargo

All Member States are required to prevent the direct or indirect supply, sale, or transfer to the DPRK, through their territories or by their nationals, or using their flag vessels or aircraft, and whether or not originating in their territories, of all arms and related material, including small arms and light weapons and their related material, a ban on related financial transactions, technical training including hosting of trainers, advisors, or other officials for the purpose of military, paramilitary, or police related training, services or assistance related to manufacture, maintenance or use, and with respect to the shipment of items to or from the DPRK for repair, servicing, refurbishing, testing, reverse-engineering and marketing.

related programmes. Lists of prohibited items are available at: <https://www.un.org/securitycouncil/sanctions/1718/prohibited-items>

All Member States are further required to implement a binding dual-use “catch-all” provision to apply the above measures on any item if the State determines that it could contribute to the DPRK’s nuclear or ballistic missile programmes, other weapons of mass destruction programmes or other activities prohibited by the resolutions.

States shall also prohibit the procurement of all the above from the DPRK by their nationals, or using their flagged vessels or aircraft, and whether or not originating in the territory of the DPRK.

Member States are called upon to inspect vessels with the consent of the flag State, on the high seas, if they have information that provides reasonable grounds to believe that the cargo of such vessels contains items the supply, sale, transfer or export of which is prohibited by the relevant resolutions.

All States are called upon to cooperate with inspections and, if the flag State does not consent to inspection on the high seas, decides that the flag State shall direct the vessel to proceed to an appropriate and convenient port for the required inspection by the local authorities, and decides further that, if a flag State neither consents to inspection on the high seas nor directs the vessel to proceed to an appropriate and convenient port for the required inspection, or if the vessel refuses to comply with flag State direction to permit inspection on the high seas or to proceed to such a port, then the Committee shall consider designating the vessel for the measures imposed in paragraph 8 (d) of resolution 1718 (2006) and paragraph 12 of resolution 2321 (2016) and the flag State shall immediately deregister that vessel provided that such designation has been made by the Committee.

2. OVERVIEW OF THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL 2231 SANCTIONS REGIME

2.1. UNSC 2231 Sanctions Regime

Diplomatic efforts to reach a comprehensive, long-term and proper solution to the Iranian nuclear issue culminated in the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA) concluded on 14 July 2015 by China, France, Germany, the Russian Federation, the United Kingdom, the United States, the High Representative of the European Union (the E3/EU+3) and the Islamic Republic of Iran.

On 20 July 2015, the Security Council unanimously adopted resolution 2231 (2015) endorsing the JCPOA. The Security Council affirmed that conclusion of the JCPOA marked a fundamental shift in its consideration of the Iranian nuclear issue, expressed its desire to build a new relationship with Iran strengthened by the implementation of the JCPOA and to bring to a satisfactory conclusion its consideration of this matter.

The Security Council further affirmed that full implementation of the JCPOA would contribute to building confidence in the exclusively peaceful nature of Iran's nuclear programme and emphasized that the JCPOA is conducive to promoting and facilitating the development of normal economic and trade contacts and cooperation with Iran.

Resolution 2231 (2015) provides for the termination of the provisions of previous Security Council resolutions on the Iranian nuclear issue and establishes specific restrictions that apply to all States without exception. Member States are obligated under Article 25 of the Charter of the UN to accept and carry out the Security Council's decisions.

Resolution 2231 (2015) urges full implementation of the JCPOA on the timetable established in JCPOA Annex-V and sets forth the following steps for the eventual removal of Security Council sanctions on Iran:

Adoption Day

Adoption Day occurred on 18 October 2015, 90 days after endorsement of the JCPOA by the Security Council through resolution 2231 (2015). At that point, the JCPOA came into effect.

Implementation Day

Implementation Day occurred on 16 January 2016 when the Security Council received the report from the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) confirming that Iran has taken a series of nuclear-related actions specified in paragraphs 15.1-15.11 of JCPOA Annex-V.

The provisions of Security Council resolutions 1696 (2006), 1737 (2006), 747 (2007), 1803 (2008), 1835 (2008), 1929 (2010) and 2224 (2015) have been terminated subject to re- imposition in the event of significant non-performance of JCPOA commitments; and

All States shall comply with the specific restrictions established by Annex-B of resolution 2231 (2015) for the duration specified in each paragraph or sub-paragraph.

Transition Day

Transition Day will occur eight years from Adoption Day or upon receipt by the Security Council of the report from the IAEA stating that the IAEA has reached the Broader Conclusion that all nuclear material in Iran remains in peaceful activities.

2.2. Sanctions Measures under 2231 Sanctions Regime

As per UNSC 2231 Sanctions Regime, all States are required to implement following measures relating to the Islamic Republic of Iran established by Annex -B of resolution 2231 (2015) for the duration specified in each paragraph or sub-paragraph (also stipulated in SRO No. 1492 dated 04 December 2019 available at:

http://www.mofa.gov.pk/documents/sro/UN-SRO/SRO_1492.pdf)

2.2.1. Nuclear Related Transfers and Activities (Procurement Channel)

UNSC resolution 2231 provides for the termination of the provisions of previous Security Council resolutions on the Iranian nuclear issue and establishes specific restrictions that apply to all States without exception.

The resolution calls for the establishment by the JCPOA of a dedicated “procurement channel” for the transfer of items, materials, equipment, goods and technology required for Iran’s nuclear activities under the JCPOA. Through this procurement channel, the Security Council will review and decide on recommendations from the Joint Commission regarding proposals by States to participate in or permit nuclear-related activities set forth in paragraph 2 of Annex-B of resolution 2231 (2015).

All States may participate in and permit the following activities subject to approval in advance, on a case-by-case basis, by the Security Council:

- (b) the provision to Iran of any technical assistance or training, financial assistance, investment, brokering or other services, and the transfer of financial resources or services, related to the supply, sale, transfer, manufacture or use of the items, materials, equipment, goods and technology described in sub-paragraph (a) above; and

These restrictions shall apply until the date; ten years after the JCPOA Adoption Day, as defined in the JCPOA adopted under UNSCR 2231 (2015), except if the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) submits a report confirming the Broader Conclusion before that date, then the requirement to obtain approval in advance by the Security Council shall be suspended immediately and, beginning on the date of this suspension, the exceptions provided for in this paragraph shall continue to apply and all States may participate in and permit the activities set forth in this paragraph if they notify the Security Council and the Joint Commission at least ten working days in advance of each such activity on a case-by-case basis.

2.2.2. Ballistic Missile Related Transfers and Activities

All States may participate in and permit the following if approved in advance, on a case-by- case basis by the Security Council;

In the event of an approval by the Security Council:

- (a) the contract for delivery of such items or assistance should include appropriate end-user guarantees; and
- (b) Iran should commit not to use such items for development of nuclear weapon delivery systems.

These restrictions shall apply until the date; eight years after the JCPOA Adoption Day or until the date on which the IAEA submits a report confirming the Broader Conclusion, whichever is earlier.

2.2.3. Arms Related Transfers

All States may participate in and permit, provided that the Security Council decides in advance, on a case-by-case basis, to approve:

- (a) the supply, sale or transfer directly or indirectly from or through their territories, or by their nationals or individuals subject to their jurisdiction, or using their flag vessels or aircraft, and whether or not originating in their territories, to Iran, or for the use in or

SECTION-II

4. LEGAL FRAMEWORK IN PAKISTAN FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF UNSC RESOLUTIONS

4.1. United Nations Security Council Act, 1948 (XIV of 1948)

Chapter-VII resolutions of the UN Security Council are implemented in Pakistan through the UNSC Act, 1948 (XIV of 1948) as amended in 2020. The Act empowers the Federal Government to apply measures to give effect to the decisions of the UN Security Council. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA), on behalf of the Federal Government, issues Statutory Regulatory Orders (SROs) under the UNSC Act 1948.

The SROs provide the full legal basis for the implementation of all aspects of the sanction's measures. Moreover, the mechanism for implementing asset freezing under the SROs is explained under the UNSC Act 1948 (United Nations Security Council Freezing and Seizure Order 2019). The authorities can also rely on other relevant domestic laws and regulations for strengthening the implementation of the sanctions. These are explained in subsequent sections.

4.1.1. Explanation of the SRO

This section would explain the format of the SRO with a view to simplify its interpretation by relevant stakeholders in particular the law enforcement agencies.

4.1.1.1. Format

Broadly, the SRO can be divided into three parts:

The first part contains information about the various Chapter-VII UNSC resolutions pertaining to relevant Sanctions Committee, on the basis of which the subject SRO is issued under Section 2 of the UN Security Council Act 1948.

The second part of the SRO contains information on the sanctions measures which have to be applied on designated individuals and entities.

The third part of the SRO, being the annex, contains the list entry of the designated individual or entity. The list entry is very useful for ascertaining the identity of the designated individual or entity as it contains information such as names, aliases, location, identity/travel document details etc. The list entry also contains web link to special UNSC- INTERPOL notice for the designated individuals/entities.

In case of de-listing, the annex of the SRO contains the name of individuals and entities who are no longer subject to sanctions measures.

In case of amendment in the list entry, the annex contains the subject amendments reflected in the list entry through strike through and underline.

4.1.1.2. Operational information

From the operational perspective, the Law Enforcement Agencies (LEAs) in particular should carefully study the annex part of the SRO which contains the list entry. This information helps in verifying the identity of the listed individual and entity so that sanctions could be applied accordingly.

4.2. EXPLANATION OF EXPORT CONTROL ACT, DOMESTIC EXPORT CONTROL AND SECDIV

In pursuance of its commitment to non-proliferation, Pakistan has instituted a comprehensive legislative, regulatory and implementation system on transfer of sensitive goods and technologies and ensuring their safety and security at all stages. Export Control Act on Goods, Technologies, Materials and Equipment related to Nuclear and Biological Weapons and their Delivery Systems Act- 2004 was passed by the National Assembly on 14 September 2004 and by the Senate on 18 September 2004. The Act received the assent of the President on 23 September 2004 and entered into force the same day. The Act further strengthens controls on export of sensitive technologies related to nuclear and biological weapons and their means of delivery. Pursuant to the Act; the Strategic Export Control Division (SECDIV) was established in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs as licensing and implementing authority for the control lists items, as well as those falling under the “catch- all”. Salient of the Export Control Act include: -

- (a) Controls over export, re-export, trans-shipment and transit of goods, technologies, material and equipment related to nuclear and biological weapons and missiles capable of delivering such weapons.
- (b) Prohibition on diversion of controlled goods and technologies.
- (c) Wide jurisdiction (also includes Pakistanis visiting or working abroad).
- (d) Comprehensive Control Lists and catch-all provisions.
- (e) Licensing and record keeping provisions.
- (f) Attempts to commit or abet the commission of an offense, including financing or financial assistance, is deemed as offense and, as per Section 7 of SECA-2004 any person who contravenes any provision or attempts to commit or abets the commission of an offense, under this Act or any order, rules and regulations framed thereunder shall be tried by a Court of Session.
- (g) The Act stipulates that licenses for export of goods and technologies for peaceful applications may be approved unless the Government determines that the export would be in contravention to the provisions of the Act.
- (h) Penal provisions: Up to 14 years imprisonment and Rs. 5 million fine or both, and on conviction, confiscation of offender’s property and assets, wherever they may be.
- (i) Right of appeal is provided to resolve grievances.

Lists of goods and technologies subject to regulatory controls were initially notified in 2005 (SRO 1078 (I)/2005) and subsequently reviewed/revised.

The latest version of the lists is available at:

http://www.secdiv.gov.pk/uploads/Control_Lists_4th-f55d.pdf

These lists are periodically reviewed/revised by a standing Joint Working Group (JWG), which takes into consideration technological developments at national/ international level and changes/modifications introduced by other international non-proliferation regimes.

4.2.1. Enforcement and Compliance

Strategic export control laws govern the transfer/export including re-export, transit and transshipment of goods, technologies/software, materials, and services etc. that could be used for developing Weapons of Mass Destruction or their delivery systems.

SECDIV regularly undertakes outreach activities to raise awareness. Discussion/presentations are arranged with the business community, Chambers of Commerce and Industry, researchers/academicians, trade associations, and enforcement agencies. In addition, seminars/conferences are arranged at the national and international levels. Capacity building of Customs and other agencies is done through Commodity Identification Training, which has been institutionalized in collaboration with Pakistan Customs. Special training modules have been developed for the capacity building of enforcement agencies to give a “trained eye” to inspectors. These sessions are also utilized for sensitization on the UNSCR sanctions regime and measures to prevent proliferation financing. Comprehensive guidelines on internal compliance have been notified vide SRO 2(24)/2013-SECDIV (P) dated 3 October 2014 (available at www.secdiv.gov.pk/uploads/ICP-Guidelines-db7d.pdf), in the Gazette of Pakistan. All entities are urged to set up a self-regulatory mechanism to remain effectively compliant. These guidelines are applicable to small, medium and large entities and, as well as to research and academic institutions.

4.3. OVERVIEW OF IET and CRMC

SECTION V

8. PENALTIES FOR SANCTIONS VIOLATIONS

8.1. Penalty for Violation of SROs issued under UN Security Council Act 1948

Section 2 of the UN Security Council Act 1948 clearly states that provision may be made for the punishment of person (s) found in violation of the SROs. A person is guilty of an offense if he, in any way whatsoever, refuses or fails to comply with the orders of the Federal Government under section 2 of United Nations Security Council Act 1948 (XIV of 1948).

In addition, the UN Security Council (Enforcement) Order, 2012 notified vide SRO 381 (I)/2012 dated 29th March, 2012 and last amended on 11th January, 2013, and Amended Anti-Terrorism Act (section 11000) prescribe the penalty for violation of SROs.

8.1.1. Penalty for Non-Compliance

A person guilty of an offence shall be liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years or with fine not exceeding twenty-five million rupees or with both.

A legal person shall be liable on conviction for fine not exceeding fifty million rupees and every director, officer or employee of such legal person found guilty of the violation shall be liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years or with fine not exceeding twenty-five million rupees or with both.

Under SRO 381 dated 29 March 2012 MoFA has the powers to seek assistance from any Division, Department, Agency of the Federal and/or Provincial Government, regulatory bodies, LEAs including Police and FIA, for imposition of the penalty.

In this regard all Provincial and Federal Ministries/Departments and agencies would share regular information about incidences of “non-compliance” with MoFA. Once an incident of wilful non-compliance of SRO is brought to the attention of MoFA, it would impose a penalty on the person, company or other juristic body in violation of the SRO, as applicable.

8.2. Penalties for Criminal Violations of the Sanctions

8.2.1. Targeted Financial Sanctions

Persons within the territory of Pakistan, who wilfully violate the provisions of sanctions regime shall be prosecuted in accordance with the applicable national laws. Some examples of violations and suggested actions are given below:

Scenario 1 (Provision of Funds and Economic Resources Indirectly):

Individual X is not designated on the UN consolidated list and is not a member of the designated entity. However, individual X is raising funds on behalf of a designated Entity Y (a UN listed entity) through any means including: funds collection through charity and/or hides collection etc. In such a case, legal action to be taken against Individual X.

Scenario 2 (Provision of Funds and Economic Resources Directly):

Entity X is designated on the UN consolidated list. Members of the Entity X (who themselves may or may not be on the consolidated list) attempt to raise fund with the view to provide humanitarian or emergency relief work to general public. In such a case, legal action to be taken against members of the Entity X, as the asset freezing restrictions apply to all activities including any apparent charitable or humanitarian efforts.

Scenario 3 (Provision of Funds and Economic Resources for the Benefit of or on Behalf of): Individual X is not a listed on the UN consolidated list. However, he wilfully holds legal title to any financial asset (moveable or immovable property including any motor vehicle) for the benefit of or on behalf of a designated Entity Y and/or designated Individual Z. Persons involved in violations of the arms embargo provisions of the sanctions regime shall be prosecuted under the relevant Provincial laws (Arms Ordinances), as if those persons committed offences under those laws. Example of violations and suggested actions are given below:

Scenario 1: Individual X is a designated individual on the UN consolidated list. He continues to keep in his possession any weapon for his personal use or security. In such a case, legal action to be taken against X for unauthorized access to arms.

Scenario 2: Individual X is a designated individual on the UN consolidated list. His friend Y (not on the UN list) provides him access to arm(s). In such a case, legal action to be taken against individual Y for giving Individual X unauthorized access to arms.

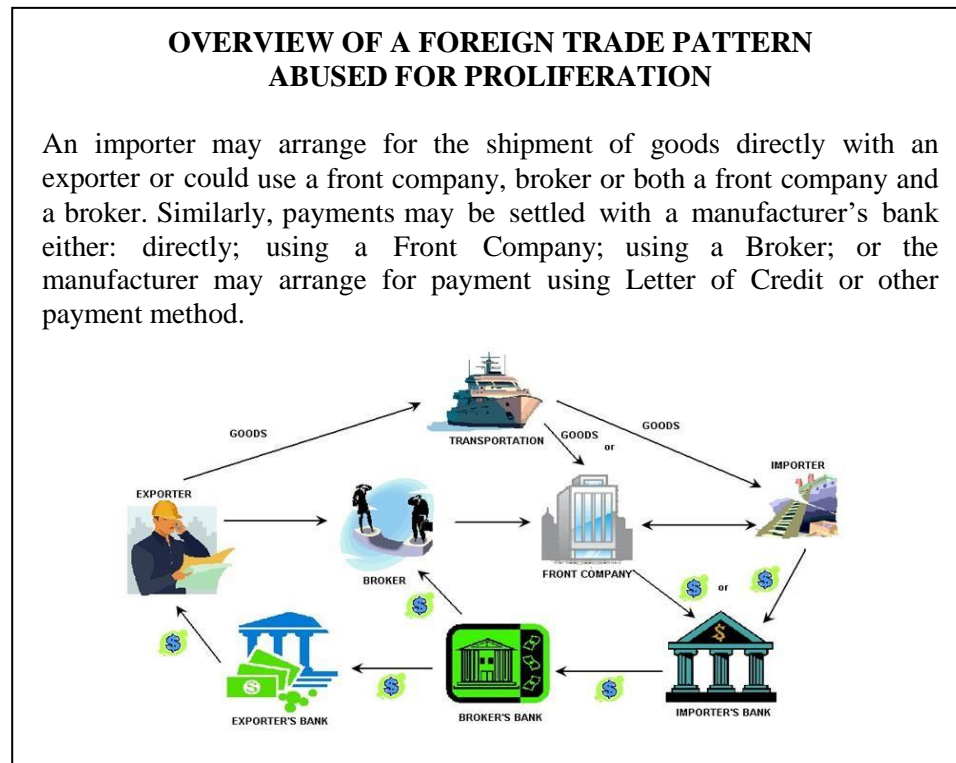

Scenario 3: Individual X is a designated individual on the UN consolidated list. His bodyguard Y (not on the UN list) has access to arm(s) for the purpose of providing security. In such a case, legal action to be taken against individual Y for giving Individual X unauthorized access to arms.

SECTION VI – Annex

9. Scope of Proliferation Financing

Defining the scope of proliferation and proliferation financing is both critical and challenging. The following paragraphs illustrate the types of proliferation activities that often involve proliferation financing.

- (a) Proliferation networks operate globally. Advances in economic integration and in the volume and speed of international travel and trade, facilitate the global transfer of sensitive items by proliferators. Proliferators mask their acquisitions as legitimate trade. They exploit global commerce e.g. by operating in countries with high volumes of international trade or utilizing free-trade zones, where their illicit procurement and shipments are more likely to escape scrutiny. However, in reaction to this phenomenon, jurisdictions with a highly developed and efficient export control system make enhanced efforts to control these transactions.
- (b) The following diagram illustrates a basic foreign trade pattern which is routinely used in export financing. Proliferators may abuse this typical trade pattern to disguise their real intentions.

- (c) Proliferators rely on support structures that exploit a number of channels to facilitate the purchase, sale, export or import of sensitive goods. As with most illicit trafficking, proliferation networks work to conceal the end-user of traded goods, the goods themselves as well as the entities involved and associated financial transactions.
- (d) To ensure that authorities do not detect the real end-use of sensitive goods being exported, networks may use intermediaries and front companies to arrange for the trade and export of goods by witting or unwitting companies. However, the use of intermediaries is not in itself an indication for proliferation financing. Exporters employ intermediaries for legitimate purposes. When exporting out of or through jurisdictions with well-developed export control regimes, intermediaries and front companies may use fraudulent documents, such as false end-use certificates, forged export and re-export certificates. Couriers or other facilitators may be used to ensure that the transfer of goods, in particular at main transit points, avoids inspection to ensure safe entry of the goods by land, sea, or air. For detailed proliferation financing and related explanations, please refer to “Typologies Report on Proliferation Financing 2008” available at the link mentioned below:

9.1. Situations Indicating Possible Proliferation Financing (Red Flags)

The 2008 Financial Action Task Force (FATF) issued the Typologies Report on Proliferation Financing provides a starting point to assist both public and private sectors in understanding the threats and situations where customers, transactions and other account activities may be involved in proliferation financing. Since then, proliferators have developed more sophisticated networks to hide such activities. Some of these recent proliferation financing-related sanctions evasion techniques have been captured in the reports submitted by the UN Panel of Experts (PoE) to relevant UNSC or UNSCR committees.

In addition to the FATF typologies and UN PoE reports, national authorities and academic institutions have identified a number of situations below, which may indicate possible proliferation financing activities. However, information contained in this Annex is not uniquely determinative of proliferation financing, and proliferation financing activities may share similar traits with money laundering (especially trade-based money laundering) and terrorist financing activities.

The following indicators could be used by the AML/CFT regulatory authorities for providing specific guidance, to their respective reporting entities. The following list is not exhaustive and AML/CFT regulatory authorities should provide additional indicators, where relevant.

9.1.1. Elements that may Indicate Proliferation Financing

Indicators of possible proliferation financing as mentioned in Annex 1 to the 2008 FATF Typologies Report on Proliferation Financing:

- (a) Transaction involves person or entity in foreign country of proliferation concern.
- (b) Transaction involves person or entity in foreign country of diversion concern.
- (c) The customer or counter-party or its address is similar to one of the parties found on publicly available lists of “denied persons” or has a history of export control contraventions.
- (d) Customer activity does not match business profile, or end-user information does not match end-user’s business profile.
- (e) A freight forwarding firm is listed as the product’s final destination.
- (f) Order for goods is placed by firms or persons from foreign countries other than the country of the stated end-user.
- (g) Transaction involves shipment of goods incompatible with the technical level of the country to which it is being shipped, (e.g. semiconductor manufacturing equipment being shipped to a country that has no electronics industry).
- (h) Transaction involves possible shell companies (e.g. companies do not have a high level of capitalization or displays other shell company indicators).
- (i) Transaction demonstrates links between representatives of companies exchanging goods i. e. same owners or management.
- (j) Circuitous route of shipment (if available) and/or circuitous route of financial transaction.

- (k) Trade finance transaction involves shipment route (if available) through country with weak export control laws or weak enforcement of export control laws.
- (l) Transaction involves persons or companies (particularly trading companies) located in countries with weak export control laws or weak enforcement of export control laws.
- (m) Transaction involves shipment of goods inconsistent with normal geographic trade patterns (e.g. does the country involved normally export/import good involved?).
- (n) Transaction involves financial institutions with known deficiencies in AML/CFT controls and/or domiciled in countries with weak export control laws or weak enforcement of export control laws.
- (o) Based on the documentation obtained in the transaction, the declared value of the shipment was obviously under-valued vis-à-vis the shipping cost.
- (p) Inconsistencies in information contained in trade documents and financial flows, such as names, companies, addresses, final destination etc.
- (q) Pattern of wire transfer activity that shows unusual patterns or has no apparent purpose.
- (r) Customer vague/incomplete on information it provides, resistant to providing additional information when queried.
- (s) New customer requests letter of credit transaction awaiting approval of new account.
- (t) Wire instructions or payment from or due to parties not identified on the original letter of credit or other documentation.

9.1.2. Additional Potential Indicators of Sanctions Evasion Activity Mentioned in Third- Party Reports (e.g. UN PoE reports, academic research)

- (a) Involvement of items controlled under WMD export control regimes or national control regimes.

- (b) Involvement of a person connected with a country of proliferation concern (e.g. a dual-national), and/or dealing with complex equipment for which he/she lacks technical background.
- (c) Use of cash or precious metals (e.g. gold) in transactions for industrial items.
- (d) Involvement of a small trading, brokering or intermediary company, often carrying out business inconsistent with their normal business.
- (e) Involvement of a customer or counter-party, declared to be a commercial business, whose transactions suggest they are acting as a money-remittance business.
- (f) Transactions between companies on the basis of "ledger" arrangements that obviate the need for international financial transactions.
- (g) Customers or counter-parties to transactions are linked (e.g. they share a common physical address, IP address or telephone number, or their activities may be coordinated).
- (h) Involvement of a university in a country of proliferation concern.
- (i) Description of goods on trade or financial documentation is nonspecific, innocuous or misleading.
- (j) Evidence that documents or other representations (e.g. relating to shipping, customs, or payment) are fake or fraudulent. Use of personal account to purchase industrial items.

Supervised entities to take note of the following circumstances where customers and transactions are more vulnerable to be involved in proliferation financing activities relating to both DPRK and Iran sanctions regimes:

- (a) customers and transactions associated with countries subject to sanctions;
- (b) instruments that could particularly be used to finance prohibited transactions, such as certain trade financing products and services;
- (c) customers involved with and/or transactions related to items, materials, equipment, goods and technology prohibited by UNSCRs;
- (d) reasonableness of invoiced goods against market value, inconsistency or discrepancies in trade-related documentation.

9.2. Follow-Up Actions

Regulatory bodies should continuously study the measures to facilitate the effective implementation of the activity-based financial prohibitions, with a view to facilitating a harmonized and workable approach for financial institutions to prevent engaging in financial activities prohibited under activity-based financial prohibitions.

Promptly share information provided by supervised institutions relating to potential activity-based financial prohibitions with other relevant counter proliferation authorities internally, as appropriate.

The relevant national authority should also consider to quickly share such information with counterparts from relevant countries, as appropriate. The relevant stakeholder should see that adequate controls and safeguards are established to ensure that any information exchanged in the above context is used only in an authorized manner, consistent with their obligations concerning privacy and data protection.

9.3. Promoting Understanding of Obligations

- (a) AML/CFT Regulatory authorities should conduct regular outreach and issue guidelines and circulars to supervised institutions to explain their sanctions obligations and cases of sanctions evasion;
- (b) Establish communication channels (e.g. a hot-line, or a dedicated email account) to provide operational guidance and answer enquiries;
- (c) Update guidance material to reflect the latest sanctions obligations;
- (d) Consider providing both general and introductory materials, as well as sector- specific information to cater to the needs of different institutions with different levels of understanding of obligations, different implementation focus, different methods of implementation, and different geographical coverage.
- (e) The monitoring programme should be conducted on a regular basis, instead of conducting checks only when there is suspected violation of supervisory requirements.
